Mark III

Employee Benefits

Don Browder started Mark III in 1973 after years of working for insurance carriers. His experience in the group insurance market enabled him to develop Mark III into one of the leading independent brokers for public and private agencies. Then and now, their commitment is to providing products and services to best meet the needs of employees and the employer. To the Browders, the customer is key and that passion for working for the customer continues to be the goal.

Mark III has assembled a team of expert finance officers, insurance carrier representatives and underwriters, and former top school officials. They each work for you – the employer and employee – to provide the best insurance solutions possible.

As a family business, Mark III believes that everyone needs insurance and no matter what the health issue may be, they will help you secure insurance. Mark III works for the customer and not the insurance company. “Providing the best products available at the highest level of customer service is what we do and who we are”.
